FOREWORD

Greencastle-Antrim High School offers many opportunities for students to grow. Growing mentally can be achieved in the classroom. Physical education and school sports afford the opportunity for physical development. Students can also grow socially through various extra-curricular activities. In the 1962 edition of the CONOCOCHEAGUE the Yearbook Staff presents these opportunities for growth.

MRS. JEAN BAER has become a vital link in our life at G.A.H.S. Her influence is felt not only in her business education department, but in her appreciation of school activities and her maintenance of good manners and winsome ways.

Although natives of Chambersburg, she and her husband have recently moved to Hagerstown. Mr. Spice III, their twenty-one foot boat, lets them enjoy all the water sports available at Ocean City, Md.

In the classroom, Mrs. Baer proves to be even-tempered and calm. She makes her classes enjoyable and relaxing. Many typing students will remember her favorite expressions such as "throw, indent, type, throw," "relax as you type." Her days, however, are filled not only with the classroom activities of a teacher, but also with supervising Bank Day, advising the business manager of the Yearbook staff and assisting as adviser to the Junior class and all its projects.

It is with pride and pleasure that the Staff presents the 1962 edition of the CONOCHEAGUE to JEAN E. BAER.

A black and white portrait of a middle-aged man with short, dark hair, wearing round-rimmed glasses, a dark suit jacket, a white shirt, and a dark tie. He is looking slightly to the right of the camera with a neutral expression. The background is a plain, light-colored wall.

You are to be congratulated on the preparation of this fine Yearbook which will help you to preserve the memories of these years. Your theme is especially timely, since it emphasizes the importance of education for the development of the fully mature person. Never in our history is it more important to realize that our schools should be concerned with the spiritual, mental, social, and physical growth of our children.

God Bless you and best wishes to all of you as you leave us and move into the future, which regardless of its uncertainties, will always require men and women of character and mature personalities.

A Message From Our High School Principal

My sincere congratulations to the members of the Class of 1962! You have now reached the point in your lives when you are about to be graduated from the Greencastle-Antrim High School. You have reached this goal by continued growth throughout your school career.

As you go your individual ways to take your places as leaders in our community, it is the sincere hope of the faculty and staff that you will continue to grow and use your God-given talents to the fullest, that the community may look with pride on you and your contributions to society, and that this may reflect in some measure upon our schools and the sound, basic foundation you have received here.

Congratulations to the advisers and staff of the yearbook for another fine edition. In these trying times, when people are concerned with despair and destruction, you have had the courage, faith, and foresight to choose as your theme "Growth!"

James R. Marty

CLASS SONG

We are the mighty class of '62
Come on you kids all give a cheer,
We're busting out with hope and
victory;
With high uplifted heads.
We give our thanks to good ole
G.H.S.
And to our loyal faculty.
And in the future we shall ne'er
forget,
The many cherished memories. . .

CLASS HISTORY

At graduation time our memories let us realize how four years of high school life have brought changes and growth.

In 1959, we entered high school as giggly, gay freshmen, ready to start different areas of studies in a new environment.

As sophomores, now accustomed to high school, we held our first class meeting on February 5, 1960. Gordon Thomas was elected president; Robert Beard, vice-president; Jane Eyler, secretary; and Linda Miller, treasurer. The great debate of the year was the selection of our class colors. We also enjoyed biology hikes to nearby fields to collect insect specimens. And who will forget the closing days of that year when we took our last looks at the familiar halls and rooms as we prepared to enter this new building on Ridge Avenue in September.

More calm and self-assured, as juniors we voted to retain our former officers, with one exception—Linda Barnhart was chosen secretary. Class rings and jackets dominated our conversation and were proudly displayed, but many other highlights filled the year. Ten of our classmates were installed into the National Honor Society. Later came the presentation of our three one-act plays: "The Devil and Daniel Webster," "The Long Silence," and "The Revolt of Mother." The long day's trip to Washington was exciting and educational with visits to Congress and other historical scenes and landmarks. The last big event was the Junior-Senior Prom. Many will remember the last minute details in decorating the cafeteria and the joy of dancing to the orchestral music.

Now we have stepped up to the position of seniors and the most eventful year of our lives. Our officers, song, flower, and class favorites were chosen at the first class meetings. Soon senior pictures were taken and when proofs arrived, more tensions existed, equalled only by those when the pictures arrived. Meanwhile, our trips to the Franklin County Court House and Franklin Farms created sobering influences as we witnessed the "trial by jury" system in operation and were shown how the unfortunate and homeless of the county live. Another thrill came when the senior members of the National Honor Society had the privilege of inducting additional classmates and juniors into the Society. The financial goals of the year were being met by the presentation of the movie "The Big Show" and the sale of magazines. But the big event was the presentation of the play "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," directed by Mr. Eberly. The last month has been filled with the Junior-Senior Prom, the happy memories of our New York trip, and finally Commencement—the zenith of our entire career.

Thus, as we stand on the brink of tomorrow with high school life behind us, we cast one final gaze backward and realize that looking forward as freshmen was very different from looking back as seniors. Since hopes and aspirations have become realities, we look to higher horizons for service and growth.

Having finally advanced to the status of upperclassmen, juniors have enjoyed the position of superiority. After receiving rings and class jackets, we really felt worthy of the name.

Since the beginning of the school year, officers and committees have been busy selecting projects, choosing and presenting our play, planning and decorating for the biggest social event of the year—the Junior-Senior Prom. Selling dish cloths and sponges has been the additional money-making project. However, the play produced the greatest source of excitement and revenue for our senior trip to New York.

In March, we enjoyed our first big day's field trip by bus to our nation's capitol. Really seeing the White House, touring the capitol and other prominent buildings produced thrills, and none will forget the efficiency of the F.B.I. man.

Our new subjects this year include chemistry, shorthand, typing, French, and plane geometry. We are the first class to have chemistry in the junior year, and in the beginning we had only a vague understanding of what we were studying. Gradually, after becoming more familiar with the subject, we have been able to comprehend it better. Shorthand and typing give valuable training for secretarial jobs or the modern business world. All of the subjects help us to gain important knowledge that we will use in every phase of life.

We await our senior year with a combination of feelings, mostly joy and anticipation.

One hundred forty energetic sophomores climbed the ladder of G.A.H.S., eager to begin the first year in Senior High School. At the first class meeting, we elected officers to lead us as we pressed toward the goal of becoming outstanding citizens: President, Dennis Kershner; Vice-President, Steve Zeis; Secretary, Sandy Myers; Treasurer, May Sneckenberger. Mr. Buchanan has been our Class Adviser.

Many new and wonderful facts from the world of knowledge have been added to our growing mentality. Understanding of our fellow-classmates increased greatly as we read about the many types of people in this world, each having a distinct personality. Study of World Culture also has developed an appreciation for the customs of other lands.

tribution, for satisfying lives. Socially, also, we lost the timidity of our freshman year and greatly enlarged our circle of friends. Through such clubs as Senior High Student Council, Band, and Youth for Christ, we have realized the necessity of cooperation to achieve the goal of success. The variety of sports has been large enough to include the majority of our enthusiastic classmates, thus encouraging us to grow physically. Classes in health and physical education strengthen strong minds in strong bodies full of pep and vigor.

And so, we have climbed many rungs of that ladder, and we can see the shining goal before us. With great expectations we look forward to future years and we express our thanks to the many patient teachers who have helped us through our sophomore year.

(19 boys seated in the Vocational Ag Room are included in the 5 rooms listed.)

As ninth graders, our world is a changing one. We, too, are changing, for we are developing both physically and mentally. Ahead of us lie three more years, during which we should strive to develop even more the bodies and minds given to us.

We have learned through our first eight years how to cope with the responsibilities of school work. Now, as ninth graders, we are learning how to live in and out of school. We are setting an example for the underclassmen. Our growing responsibilities are "toughening" us for the real tasks of life.

Freshmen are offered more sports and clubs in which to participate and become a part of a team. This helps us to improve physically, as well as socially, for it enables us to attend many activities in our own school and neighboring schools.

In growing intellectually, physically, mentally, spiritually, morally, and socially, we have had assistance from our teachers. Without their guidance and our cooperation, we could not apply what we have learned so efficiently and effectively. We have matured in many ways, and three more challenging years stretch ahead of us.

With the help of more and better materials for studying, we eighth graders are now finding and enjoying our rapid increase of mental and physical abilities. The teachers, with patience, are watching us turn in better work and, therefore, are presenting better grades.

Recently, we have been participating in more school and student council projects, such as school dances, plays, and games. This is also good for our morale. Pride is no longer the meaningless word heard somewhere. It is now a part of our lives—in and out of school.

The gym and shop teachers are to be congratulated for their voluntary hand in the training of our sports' heroes and mechanics of tomorrow.

This has been our second year of junior high basketball and a better won-lost record is highly probable. The girls' intramural basketball league also caused excitement and these girls are expected to be super stars when they reach senior high.

Sincerely appreciative of the time and effort the teachers have taken in making these results possible, we will try to be deserving.

SEVENTH GRADERS develop stepping stones — good grades,

Mr. and Miss GAHS

Jane Eyler — Steve Bennett

As Linda Crouse prays, these students are thanking their Creator for the blessings of life. Prayer in the cafeteria is one of the many ways helping us to realize the temporal blessings God gives us.

Our flag upholds many moral principles such as liberty, equality, honesty, and justice. These seniors, by pledging their allegiance to the flag, are helping to uphold our ideals.

Y.F.C. and Guidance influence our lives

Miss Martin is always willing and eager to assist. In these pictures, she is helping seniors and juniors decide their future careers.

After a lapse of many years the National Honor Society was again activated in our high school during the second semester of the 1960-61 school year. Mr. Martz appointed a faculty committee and the election of members took place in April. Twenty seniors and ten juniors formed the new society. This year 17 new members were elected in February. The parents of new members were invited to the induction ceremony and were entertained at a tea following the assembly program.

The purpose of the National Honor Society is "to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate desire to render service, to promote leadership, and to develop character among yourselves and your fellow students." In our high school we felt the need to better recognize the students in the junior and senior classes who have made commendable records in areas mentioned above. Four qualifications are considered for membership: scholarship, character, service, and leadership.

Induction into the National Honor Society is considered the highest honor which may come to a student in our high school. We are looking forward to giving this honor to many deserving students.

Parents enjoy the tea in honor of them and new members.

Mrs. Kuszyk, Mr. Besecker and Mr. Kuszyk.

THE DIRECTORS

Mrs. Kuszyk directs Jr. High Glee Club; Mr. Besecker directs Sr. High Glee Club, Girls' Chorus, and Boys' Quartet; Mr. Kuszyk directs the Sr. Band, Jr. Band, and Dance Band.

These three directors have given much of their time and effort to develop and improve our music department at Greencastle-Antrim High School. They have done an outstanding job which could be seen readily in the many successful music programs that they presented throughout this year.

The G.A.H.S. soccer team, with Edwin Smith in his third year at the helm, compiled one of the finest records in the fall sport for many years. The final tally showed an 8-1-5 slate for '61. The team's only defeat came at the hands of arch-rival Buchanan in the playoff for the league title, after they had captured the first-half championship. Prospects remain bright for next year, however, as Coach Smith has a nucleus of seven fine returnees.

HOCKEY Season gave the team a chance to enjoy the spicy fall weather. On September 11, the Devilettes had their first practice on the spacious hockey field. They had to buckle down to long hard practices because the first game was to be played sixteen days later. This game against Scotland, on their field, was in favor of Greencastle's opponent with a score of 2-0. The James Buchanan team found that we were not too hard to defeat. The score of that game was 4-1, in Buchanan's favor. In a return game, Greencastle defeated them 2-1. Linda Barnhart scored the winning point. A second game with Scotland resulted in a tie. The team's final game against Penn Hall resulted in another defeat for Greencastle with a score of 6-0.

JUNIOR VARSITY PLAYERS enjoyed getting out on the hockey field after school to let off some steam and to get rid of excess energy. They had to work hard learning the skills and rules of hockey. They lost their first game against Scotland in a defeat of 4-0. In games with Buchanan, G.A.H.S.' J.V.'s lost 3-0, and 5-0. The last game against Penn Hall told the same story as the varsity game—the score 2-0.

Although they did their best, the team seemed to be caught in a serious losing streak.

The Junior High Varsity, coached by Charles Kemmler, and the jayvees, coached by Nelson Carmack, once again enjoyed successful seasons. The Varsity had a 9-5 record and the Junior varsity an even better 10-4 mark. Both teams concentrated on the fundamentals as they were tutored for the higher levels of high school competition.

The Junior Varsity team, under the direction of Coach Edwin Smith continued their winning ways. The jayvees finished their season with a 21-1 record, their only defeat a one point loss to Scotland. This setback, however, ended a 52 game league winning streak and marked the first time a Smith coached hardcourt team had dropped a conference game.

Bud Stotler believes that practice makes perfect.

SECOND ROW: Moser, Dixon, Brumbaugh, Overcash, Stotler, Ziegler, Coach Schenck.
FIRST: Berger, Hann, Warren, Sellers, Shoop, Myers, Divelbiss.

The Greencastle-Antrim '62 Varsity squad closed out the finest basketball season in the school's history. By winning 18 straight games in league play, the Blue Devils compiled their first perfect slate in the Franklin division of the Franklin-Adams County conference. Those 18 league wins included two over Scotland—one a double overtime victory at Scotland, our first there in 17 years. The team's complete record was 20 wins and only two losses, both inflicted by non-league opponents Shippensburg. The Devils took their 75 points per game scoring average into the District III playoffs as part of the elimination for the state championship. Next year, Coach Fred Schenck will have two returning starters and his top two substitutes, plus the members of the fine J.V. team, to build another strong team.

May Day Activities add beauty and skill to the festival

Greencastle Junior and Senior High School presented its May Day Festival, May 4, 1961, on the athletic field. Amy Glazer had previously been voted queen by the student body and was crowned this day. The Queen's Court was composed of 7th-11th grade attendants plus three senior attendants. A program was presented by the Girl's Physical Education Department. A wand drill, trampoline act, color guard drill and the band music contributed to the enjoyment had by all on this day.

Escorts and Color Guard patiently await the arrival of the queen.

1961 May Queen Amy Glazer displays her beauty as she walks to her throne.

The Queen and her Court pose for photographers in the windy May weather.

Eight Maypole dancers who took part in the queen's entertainment.

Both the student body and spectators view the May Day Festival.

Sponsored by MARLEY'S BEAUTY SALON

Now the day is over. Was it worthwhile?

"If you want to live in the kind of a school
That's the kind of a school you like,
You needn't slip your book in a grip
And start on a long, long hike;
You'll finally find what you left behind;
For there's nothing really new.
It's a knock at yourself when you knock at your school,
It isn't the school,—it's you.

Real schools are not made by lads afraid
To work hard to get ahead;
When everyone works and nobody shirks,
You can raise a school from the dead,
And if while you make your personal gain,
Your neighbor can make one, too,
Your school will be what you want to see,
It isn't the school,—it's you."

Tom,

Good luck to a real nice
guy. Always stay as friendly and helpful and kind as you are right now. Never forget the wonderful lunch times and other times you and I and someone else had. I'll always remember you as one of my close friends.

If you walk in honor
then honest men
Will meet you along the way,
But if you are false
you will find men false
Wherever you chance to stray.
For good breeds good
and bad breeds bad,
We are met by the traits we show,
Love will find a friend
at the stranger's door,
Where hate will find a foe.

For each of us builds
the world he knows,
Which only himself can spoil,
And an hour of hate
or an hour of shame
Can ruin a life of toil.
And though to the utmost ends of the earth
Your duty may bid you fare,
If you go with truth
and a friendly heart,
You will find friends waiting there.
